1. Approval of Minutes - Ms. Turner asked for comments or a motion on the minutes from:

- Neighborhood Meeting – July 19, 2018

Mr. Brass moved approval. Mr. Hales seconded the motion. (Approved 5-0)

2. Discussion Items

2.1 Preserve Murray (PM) Presentation – Jim Brass and Janice Strobell

Mr. Brass introduced Ms. Strobell, who gave the presentation, and acknowledged the presence of Kirk Huffaker, Director of Preservation Utah.

PM originated a year ago, which is a growing group that cares about Murray and firmly believes in restoring all historic landmarks. PM wants to assist the city in finding solutions to restore and find adaptive reuse for historic buildings, by integrating them as vibrant and core facilities in the downtown redevelopment.

Ms. Strobell shared enthusiasm about preserving historic structures in the city – particularly the Murray First Ward. She said the chapel was charming, elegant and the most significant historic building in the city because of its tower, unique architecture, and location; which was the very definition of a landmark and could become a focal point for the downtown area as a natural center piece. She pointed out Gerding Edlen, the nationally recognized development firm that assisted the city years ago in designing redevelopment guidelines for the MCCD, also suggested restoring the building.

The chapel, which is for sale, has many potentials uses but Ms. Strobell said her hope is to see it become something that is missing from the city - a cultural arts center. With the city's many arts and performing organizations she said groups have no place to rehearse or perform year-round and such a center located downtown would be a major catalyst to Murray's continued development - by providing:

- Entertainment and rich cultural experiences - increasing business to local eateries.
- Close cultural options for employees of future businesses - located in the downtown.
- A new cultural district- to be included with the restoration of the Murray Theater.

Ms. Strobel and PM are confident the project can be achieved based on consultations they've had with experts in historic preservation. In closing she asked the council to lend their imaginary attention to hear a creative description of the Murray First Ward chapel – as an arts center. A lengthy narrative was given to convey sights and sounds throughout the facility that imagine:

- Yoga classes.
- Music lessons and children's choirs.
- Choral concerts, orchestras and intimate chamber performances.
- Dramatic and dance productions, lectures and various presentations.
- Banquets, weddings, and receptions including a catering kitchen.
- Classrooms and dance rehearsal studios.
- Wide-open skylight galleries for artists and national geographic exhibits.
- Meeting spaces and administrative offices for the facility.
- A warm exterior with natural lighting through stain glass windows.

Ms. Strobell requested the city participate in a partnership with PM, which she said would be beneficial for all parties involved in developing the vision. For example, a government partner would add invaluable legitimacy to this type of venture, which was essential for them as they move forward.

Ms. Turner asked Ms. Strobell what exactly PM wanted the city to do, and what the cost was for reconstructing the building into an arts center.

Ms. Strobell said they would like to ask the city council to support them in achieving the vision, by suggesting ideas in continued dialog to create a plan that would be amenable to the city. She explained the current cost to purchase the 20,000 square foot chapel is $750,000, or approximately $40 per square foot (sq. ft.). However, including renovation estimates made by Architect, Allen Roberts, she said square foot pricing would be an additional $100 per sq. ft. Therefore, the cost would be approximately $2 million dollars for purchasing and total renovation at $140 per sq. ft. Comparatively, she stated new construction costs would be $200 per square foot.

Mr. Hales asked Ms. Strobell if she was raising money to purchase the building.

The group is working to raise funding, but Ms. Strobell stressed their efforts would be more fruitful if potential foundations and donors knew the arts center was a project the city wanted in the downtown. And, approaching the county for funding would be more productive if the city would support PM efforts. She said because the building was for sale – time was critical.

Mr. Brass said the estimated renovation costs Ms. Strobell provided seemed very low. He noted the hard cost of $7 million to renovate the Murray Theater, for which the city was already obligated to repurpose; that was much smaller in size and not as complex as the Murray First Ward. He said the chapel has multiple levels, therefore, accessibility would be critical, and as a government agency, the city is held to a higher standard.

Ms. Strobell agreed a feasibility study was necessary but only a formal purchase offer would allow them to conduct such a study, to provide more concrete numbers. She noted unlike the Murray Theater, the chapel has a productive and efficient working HVAC system, which provided a savings, compared to the cost for installing a new one at the Murray Theater.

Ms. Turner wondered if cost estimates included seismic retrofit. Ms. Strobell confirmed the chapel had wall coring, which was different from the seismic retrofit at the Murray Theater. Mr. Huffaker said this methodology was used for the St. George Tabernacle building.

Mr. Brass wondered what seismic level of protection was provided with wall coring. Mr. Huffaker said wall coring meets code compliances for attaining a mass occupancy permit, which is required for Murray's seismic zone.

Mr. Nicponski did not want to encourage a scenario that would lead PM on - into thinking the city had available funding to support the project. The city currently has several historical projects on schedule, therefore, he hesitated to offer his support.

Ms. Turner agreed and asked exactly what PM hoped to gain from the city.

Ms. Strobell said because cultural arts help generate a strong base of sales tax revenue, she wanted the council to see PM efforts as valuable for downtown redevelopment and agree that an arts center would draw strong businesses and residents to area. She said employees consider these entertaining benefits when making occupational choices. And, businesses in turn, want to relocate to entertaining and cultural areas - because it attracts good employees by having these amenities close by.

Mr. Brass said he favored the idea of having a performing arts district in the city but as the council stressed on more than a few occasions, the city does not have funding to support another project - particularly the Murray First Ward arts center. The city must first construct a new fire station and city hall because both facilities are falling apart at costly rates, and the city must act now before both buildings become unsafe and uninhabitable. He noted the rising cost of steel and said necessary city buildings must take priority because all construction costs are consistently increasing the longer these projects are delayed. He stressed the request to support the arts center was not something the city could jump on board with, because frankly, there was no spare change to offer them.

Ms. Strobell asked the council to reconsider and look further at the idea of how the city could help fund the project.

Ms. Turner closed the discussion item and thanked Ms. Strobell and Mr. Huffaker for the presentation.

Mr. Huffaker interceded and said he understood financial support from the city would be difficult but wondered if the council would be interested in entertaining other ways of supporting their efforts. He suggested that he, Ms. Strobell and PM reevaluate their needs and return to the council with more specifics to have another conversation and seek further guidance from the council.

Ms. Turner said that would be helpful because she initially requested such a list.

2.2 Proposed General Plan Amendment 770 West Applegate Drive – Tim Tingey

The council would consider the proposed amendment and rezone of the property during a public hearing scheduled for September 18, 2019, which is in District #3 and currently zoned as R-1-8 – a residential zone. Mr. Tingey explained R-1-8 does not accurately match what exists there - because condominiums are considered a legal non-conforming use.

The inaccurate zone label should have been reconciled in the past, which was an oversight until now. Therefore, the General Plan would need to be changed from R-1-8, to residential medium density (R-M-15).

A map was noted to pin-point the residential area. He explained the legal non-conforming use requires modifications made to any buildings situated on the property, even a small deck expansion project, could only occur after full public process and approval from a hearing officer - for each individual building modified. The R-1-8 zone does not make sense in this area, especially due to the location of Applegate adjacent to the arterial roads, Murray Boulevard and 5300 South. The R-M-15 use was more fitting for the medium density that is already there.

There has been much controversy related to the zone change, recommended by the planning commission. Mr. Tingey noted there is a future desire to develop a portion of the property, however, the proposal presented on September 18, 2018 was not related to any new construction, which would be a separate issue. He said from a planning perspective staff recommended the zone change to the existing use that has been in place for many years.

Ms. Turner clarified the council would consider only the zone change and not new construction. Mr. Tingey confirmed.

Mr. Brass reported a visit to the area when he received a phone call from a constituent. His initial thought about the 40-year-old Applegate complex, constructed in 1974, was the property should have never been zoned R-1-8. He thought the zoning assignment of R-1-8 for condominiums - was a clerical error, which needed correcting regardless of possible future construction. He thought the complex was not well-built initially and while visiting viewed collapsing decks, as well as, other exterior concerns in need of costly repair. He noted such repairs would be difficult, due to the legal non-conforming use and thought future expansion was not relevant because the complex is in desperate need of improvements. He said the complex was a multi-family dwelling, always had been, long before anything else was developed around it.

Mr. Nicponski agreed the zone change would aide in getting improvements started.

Mr. Tingey added, if the proposed zone change is approved, higher density would not be allowed in the area. If units are demolished and new construction occurs, a high-rise apartment complex would never be allowed. Only low-rise facilities are allowed, which according to City Code means a minimum of one-story or nothing above 40 feet high. He stressed R-M-15 is medium density and a six to seven story apartment complex is not allowed. It is likely new development would occur in the future, however, there is no specific development proposal currently.

Mayor Camp noted the map and thought the same zone error might have occurred at the Glendon Cove Condominium complex. Mr. Tingey agreed and noted the proposed zone change for Applegate was not city initiated, however, he would investigate Glendon Cove zoning.

Welcome & Overview of Land Use Issues

Tim Tingey

Tim Tingey welcomed everyone to the Land Use Training meeting. Following introductions, he complimented his staff on the work they do daily in carrying out their duties and preparation for the training session. He acknowledged the council, planning commission and hearing officers for their efforts and service with sometimes very difficult issues.

Mr. Tingey commented that the training would provide a broad overview of land use law, including LUDMA principles. He said the department strives for fairness and consistency and deals with constant conflict with developers. It is challenging working with residents and administering law. Code enforcement deals with thousands of issues every year and they all work very closely with the attorney's office.

Mr. Tingey said the purpose of land use is “promoting the health, safety, morals, convenience, order, prosperity and general welfare of the present and future inhabitants of the City.” Orderly growth and preserving and creating a favorable environment are important parts of the code. Economic development is enhancing prosperity and the well being of people. Fostering business and economic development is important, as well.

Zoning ordinance is the classification of land uses. Mr. Tingey referred to the zoning map and pointed out R-1-8, which is most of the city. This is residential single-family low-density zones. Low density can also be R-1-10, and R-1-12. Preserving those areas is primarily involved with making sure the quality of life is well-maintained. We also have medium-density and high-density residential areas. Mr. Tingey commented that new construction must be located on public streets, no private streets are allowed. He provided an overview of medium density and high-density zones.

Commercial zones were described with types of uses being conducive to those areas. Parking is always a large issue. Conflict occurs when these areas interact with residential areas. Mixed use allows residential projects that are close to transit with lower level commercial. The higher density is confined to transit oriented development, mixed use zones and the Murray City Center District. Residential neighborhood business is a buffer zone between commercial and residential.

General Plan & Zoning

Jared Hall

Mr. Hall gave a review of the General Plan (GP) process, which took about three years. The General Plan is a guiding document and serves as advisory documentation for legislative decision making relating to future development in the City. During the GP process there were numerous public open houses. Five different focus groups were held for things such as bicycle groups and neighborhoods. There was a steering committee and on-line presence. A scientific survey was held with about 1500 responses for a good sample of how people felt about the direction of the General Plan. Public hearings were held at the planning commission and city council.

The outcome is very usable and accessible to the public. There are five initiatives with tools to analyze applications according to the broad goals and the future land use map.

Mr. Hall provided an example of a zone change and the process followed when an application is received.

Annual reporting on progress of the plan will take place to determined compliance and an update may take place in five years. Much of the plan included growth concepts and adhere to the Wasatch Front Regional Council's 2040/2050 Vision. Mr. Hall acknowledged the “missing middle” where there is a gap in middle income housing and the city is encouraging townhomes and alternative housing choices.

Land Use Processes

Susan Nixon

Ms. Nixon addressed the land use process and the first point of contact, which is with an applicant or someone with an inquiry or a request. About one out of ten inquiries evolve into an application. The application includes all information about a proposed project, including property owner, a concept review, site plan, floor plan, elevations, set-backs and actual permission of the property owner.

The two general processes were outlined: city council with legislative decision-making power or planning commission with administrative decision-making authority. The proper process is determined at that point.

Applications are scrutinized very completely to ascertain if a proposal is feasible. A planning review meeting is held with all divisions of the city to look at utilities, engineering and streets, with an opportunity to ask questions of the applicant and evaluate and vet all applications. Then the staff report is written after checking the city code, GP and site plans to provide background for the planning commission. Public meetings are scheduled, and notices are posted as required by code. The planning commission may make administrative decisions or a recommendation to the city council for their final consideration. Public hearings are held for both bodies and it is a very transparent process. It takes a minimum of three weeks to be scheduled for planning commission and an application must go on an agenda within a certain amount of time. Processes can take longer if there are technical issues to be resolved.

Open Meetings Training

B. Farnsworth

Mr. Farnsworth explained that public bodies must have the Open and Public Meetings Training annually and the purpose of the law is that public bodies must have deliberations and action take place in open public meetings.

Newspaper articles were presented that reference bodies who close their meetings to the public, specifically the port authority which had excluded the public and reporters. A Salt Lake Tribune article calculated the percentage of meetings when specific cities closed a portion of their meeting. Murray was the fewest closed meetings in Salt Lake County at only 4%.

All governmental bodies must follow the requirements of the Open and Public Meetings Act, which includes criteria concerning notice of meetings, agendas, minutes, and recordings, as well as, closed meetings and penalties.

Public comments are allowed on items that require a public hearing and people need to be heard, however, decorum should also be upheld. Not all issues require a public hearing.

Legal Review Discussion

G.L. Critchfield

Mr. Critchfield presented information related to the legal aspects of land use. He commented that the purpose of legal authority is to take the emotion out of decisions.

The differences between the planning commission and city council were pointed out. Elected officials are rewarded for their efforts in being elected with land use decisions and the discretionary authority that they exercise. If their decision is reasonably debatable that they have upheld the general welfare of the city, it is acceptable because they are the legislative authority for the city. It is a very broad legal standard. They may consider public clamor and have more leeway with residents and voters.

The planning commission makes only administrative decisions based on substantial evidence in the record. They may not consider public clamor, complaints about traffic, property value, and children. Evidence must be presented to the planning commission.

Mr. Critchfield explained a recent land use decision related to Murray City. The Murray First Ward case and historic preservation was appealed to a Hearing Officer and then District Court. Mr. Critchfield pointed out that what is said on the record is important as planning commissioners were quoted by the judge in his final decision. They said nothing wrong, however, the judge ruled that they had discretionary authority, which they did not. Under the section of city code that addresses historic preservation, the wording says, "demolition or destruction of a designated significant historic building shall be discouraged." It is not prohibited based on a supreme court decision. Murray code has several criteria for allowing destruction and exceptions and the fact that the developer did not take the lead in arguing the case probably made a difference in the outcome and judge's decision. Mr. Critchfield felt if the city had appealed the decision, it would have prevailed. Now a developer could come in and go through the process again. The City may need to consider revising the process.

Subdivision Ordinance

Jim McNulty

Mr. McNulty explained that subdivision ordinance is found in Title 16 of Murray Code. The planning commission is the land use authority on subdivisions and has the ability to grant approval based on submissions by the applicant. The code says the planning commission recommends approval to the mayor. The mayor would sign the ordinance after all other signatures are complete to grant the final plat approval. The mayor signs to accept the designations.

Sign Code

Jim McNulty

Mr. McNulty showed power point slides on the pending revision to the sign ordinance that would be considered by the city council in October or November. A standard monument sign can be used up to six feet tall. Pylon signs and pedestal signs that list all tenants in a center would be added to the code. Banner signs, open space signs at a trailhead or park, development signs by an entryway, and street light banner signs are all included in the sign code with specific stipulations on size and placement. One A-frame sign per business will also be added for sidewalks in the Murray City Center District.

For special events there will be a sticker for temporary use and that sign would come down at the end of the event.

Following a discussion period, Mr. Tingey thanked everyone for their presentations.

The training session adjourned at 7:40 p.m.

Subject: Jordan River Parkway Foundation Sign Donation

Attached is a request for Murray City Council to consider accepting a sign donation from the Jordan River Foundation. The donation is for two signs. Both signs will be placed near or at Arrowhead Park located along Murray's section of the Jordan River Parkway trail.

Murray Parks and Recreation Department will determine wording and subject of the signs. Signs will provide information about the history of the area. The Jordan River Foundation will pay for producing and installing the signs. The signs will become City property after installation.

Arrowheads, Ancestors, and Early Settlers

As late as 1910, the creeks in Murray provided seasonal camping for Native Americans, including the Paiute, Ute, and Shoshone tribes. The Native Americans often traded tanned skins and dried meats for food and supplies. For many years, arrowheads scattered throughout the area were commonly found.

Reproductions of arrowheads found within the Great Basin area and Murray riverbeds as late as the early 1900s. Reproductions by Dennis Weder and Peter Ainsworth.

In 1985, Mayor Larell D. Muir, commissioned Peter "Wolf" Toth to sculpt a statue of "Chief Wasatch" to honor the many Native Americans who lived in Utah long before the Euro-American settlers. Toth selected a giant cottonwood tree growing along the Jordan River near 4800 South to carve the sculpture that can be seen along the well-traveled State Street corridor.

Bergertown

Although cut off by the freeway, this area bordered a major settlement of foreign settlers which became known as BERGERTOWN. Christian Berger came from Switzerland in 1860 with the John Ross Party. To survive the first winter, the families lived in dugouts. Immigrant families continued to settle in the vicinity as the smelter operations developed through the late 1800s. Some of these settlers eventually left to settle the Midway area.

By the turn of the century, Bergertown became one of Murray's most populated areas, which included the new Bonnyview School. The new Murray 2nd Ward also included a Scandinavian branch. Generally, its residents were poor and lived in very small wood homes, but they were happy and hard-working people.

VALERY ATKINSON – 777 & 787 West Bullion Street – Project #18-107

Jake Larsen was present to represent this request. Zac Smallwood reviewed the location and request for a Zoning Map Amendment from A-1 (Agricultural) to R-1-8 (Single-Family Low Density Residential) for the properties addressed 777 and 787 West Bullion Street. Mr. Smallwood stated that the property is commonly known as the Circle-A Stables. The proposed zone map amendment is in harmony with the Future Land Use map. Based on the information presented in this report, application materials submitted and the site review, staff recommends that the Planning Commission forward a recommendation of approval to the City Council for the request to amend the Zoning Map from A-1 to R-1-8 subject to conditions.

Mr. Nay stated that the City Engineer has noted that there is a possibility to connect Bullion Street and Anderson Avenue and asked for additional information. Mr. Smallwood stated that the City does not have a development proposal at this time, but some early concept plans have shown the connection of the two streets. Mr. Nay asked if the City is opposed to the possibility. Mr. Smallwood replied in general the City is not opposed as this would increase neighborhood connectivity. Mr. McNulty clarified that this application is for a zone change only and once the rezoning approved, the applicant will be required to come in and go through a public hearing process with a subdivision plat. Because the City is aware of a concept plan it does not necessarily mean that idea won't change.

Ms. Milkavich stated because this proposal is for a zone change to residential has the City looked at the utilities being able to support the new use. Mr. McNulty indicated that utilities are available to the site.

Jake Larsen, 1474 West 5550 South, Taylorsville, stated he has reviewed the conditions and will be able to comply.

The meeting was opened for public comment.

Karen Edwards, 757 West Bullion Street, stated she supports the rezone. Ms. Edwards wanted to make it known that she is still grandfathered in to keep her pets (horses) and expressed she has endured 50 years of persecution from the neighbors. Ms. Edwards stated she does not want to get rid of her animals at this time and any new neighbors must understand that they will be in close proximity to her animals. Mr. Nay assured her that she is permitted to continue to have her nonconforming status of animals.

Emily Lawrence, 748 West Anderson Avenue, stated there have been animals on her property over the last 70-80 years and would like to be grandfathered in as well.

Pam Cotter, 752 West Bullion Street, stated that if the street does in fact connect in the future then she has concerns that an additional crossing guard would be needed for the school children, a speed zone light would need to be installed, and asked if they are selling houses how long will it take to build them.

Ashley Clark, 768 West Bullion Street, stated she is also concerned about the school children crossing the street.

The public comment portion was closed.

Mr. Woodbury thanked all the residents who came out to the meeting tonight and assured them that future proposals will go through a multi-step public process and they will have more opportunities to express their concerns.

Ms. Patterson made a motion to forward a recommendation of approval to the City Council for the requested Zone Map Amendment for the properties located at 777 and 787 West Bullion Street from A-1 (Agricultural) to R-1-8 (Single-Family Low Density Residential). Seconded by Mr. Markham.

Call vote recorded by Mr. Hall.

Motion passed 7-0.

Ms. Milkavich took the time to acknowledge the resident concerns about children crossing the street and suggested they contact traffic and safety. Mr. McNulty added that traffic and safety is overseen at a city staff level through the Police Department and City Engineer, the comments will be taken into consideration through preliminary subdivision review.

MURRAY HILLCREST, LLC – 126 East 5300 South – Project #18-112

Ryan Kimball was present to represent this request. Jared Hall reviewed the location and request for a proposed Site Plan that consists of a 129-room hotel, a new, 96-unit Assisted Living Center, and two pad sites for retail or restaurant uses not yet determined. The staff report will review and make recommendations on the Site Plan and two Conditional Use Permit applications for the proposed Hotel and Assisted Living Center for the property located at 126 East 5300 South in the C-D zone. The property was the site of the old Hillcrest Junior High School building that was demolished in 2014. Mr. Hall stated that the subdivision divides the development into properties for the proposed Townplace Suites, two proposed retail pad sites, and the proposed Abington Assisted Living Facility. Mr. Hall addressed the grading and stated the site drops down on the east side and has been addressed with the site plan. The landscaping plan shows more proposed greenery than is required by city code. The State Street pedestrian bridge lands on this property and will be addressed by conditions imposed

DATE OF REPORT: August 30, 2018

DATE OF HEARING: September 6, 2018

PROJECT NAME: Atkinson, Zone Change

PROJECT NUMBER: 18-107

PROJECT TYPE: Zone Map Amendment

APPLICANT: Jake Larsen, Lartet Properties, LLC

PROPERTY ADDRESS: 777 and 787 West Bullion Street

SIDWELL #: 21-14-277-004 and 21-14-277-003

EXISTING ZONE: A-1, Agricultural

PROPOSED ZONE: R-1-8, Single-Family Low Density Residential

PROPERTY SIZE: 1.8 acres

I. REQUEST:

The applicant is requesting approval of a Zone Map Amendment from A-1, Agricultural to R-1-8, Single-Family Low Density Residential for the properties addressed 777 and 787 West Bullion Street. Legal descriptions of the properties are attached to this report.

II. BACKGROUND AND ANALYSIS

Background

The subject properties are currently used for a single-family home with horse stables. There are a number of single family houses surrounding the subject properties to the north, east, and west. Viewmont Elementary School is located to the south and across Anderson Avenue. The proposed rezone of this property will support the goals of the General Plan to preserve and stabilize existing residential communities by creating an opportunity for additional, low-density single-family lots.

Site Location/Detail

The proposed zoning map amendment would affect two parcels that are located at 777 and 787 West Bullion Street. Both parcels extend from Bullion Street to Anderson Avenue to the south and are west of 700 west.

Traffic Impact

The City Engineer has determined that a traffic impact study will not be required for this location. This was determined by evaluating the maximum number of lots the applicant could potentially develop with the available land and considering that impact with existing conditions and infrastructure available in the area.

If the property is rezoned, the applicant has expressed interest in constructing a new public road connecting Bullion Street with Anderson Avenue to accommodate the subdivision of the property. The City Engineer considered this possibility in reviewing traffic impacts as well, and finds that it would not pose a concern, and could potentially improve connectivity to Viewmont Elementary and traffic conditions in the area.

Surrounding Land Use & Zoning

Direction	Land Use	Zoning
North	Residential	R-1-8
South	Residential, Public	R-1-8
East	Residential	R-1-8
West	Residential	R-1-8

Allowed Land Uses

Existing: The A-1 zone allows single family, detached homes with a minimum lot size of one (1) acre. This district is intended to include activities normally related to the conduct of light agricultural uses and residential living. This zone also allows accessory uses which are typical to single family homes, as well as public and quasi-public uses with conditional use permits.

Proposed: The R-1-8 zone allows single family, detached homes with minimum lot sizes of 8,000 square feet. This zone also allows accessory uses which are typical to single family homes, as well as public and quasi-public uses with conditional use permits.

III. PUBLIC INPUT

As of the date of this report, staff has received one phone call regarding the property to the east, and their ability to maintain the horse property on site. Staff advised that this specific rezoning would not affect the ability to maintain animals on their property.

IV. GENERAL PLAN ANALYSIS

The purpose of the General Plan is to provide overall goal and policy guidance related to planning issues in the community. The plan provides for flexibility in the implementation of the goals and policies depending on individual situations and characteristics of a particular site. Chapter 5 of the Murray City General Plan identifies the goals and objectives for land use in the community. The plan also identifies future land use as depicted in the future land use map.

The subject property is identified as "Low Density Residential" by the General Plan and the Future Land Use Map. The proposed R-1-8 zoning is supported by the General Plan and is compatible with the current development pattern of the area. Additional low density, single family development in this area is in keeping with the goals and objectives of the General Plan.

V. FINDINGS

A. Is there need for change in the Zoning at the subject location for the neighborhood or community?

The proposed change in zoning from A-1 to R-1-8 is in harmony with the Future Land Use designation of the subject properties and with goals of the General Plan. The properties are located adjacent to established single-family residential homes on a minor collector (Bullion Street). It is likely that the future redevelopment of these properties would be related to the existing neighborhood in some way.

Chapter Three of the Murray City General Plan calls for reinvestment in stable communities to maintain property values. The proposed change in zoning will create opportunities for the subject properties to be developed for low density, single-family residential uses.

B. If approved, how would the range of uses allowed by the Zoning Ordinance blend with surrounding uses?

The subject properties are located within an area that has already developed as single-family residential units. The potential development of these properties as additional housing would further the goals of the General Plan and blend with the existing R-1-8 zoning in the surrounding area.

C. What utilities, public services, and facilities are available at the proposed location? What are or will be the probable effects the variety of uses may have on such services?

The land surrounding the subject properties has been previously developed. Utilities and services in the area are available and have demonstrated capacity that would not be impacted negatively by the potential single-family residential development of the subject properties.

VI. CONCLUSION & FINDINGS

- i. The General Plan provides for flexibility in implementation and execution of the goals and policies based on individual circumstances.
- ii. The requested zone change has been carefully considered based on the characteristics of the site and surrounding area, and on the policies and objectives of the 2017 Murray City General Plan.
- iii. The proposed Zone Map Amendment from A-1 to R-1-8 is supported by the General Plan and Future Land Use Map designation of the subject properties.

VII. STAFF RECOMMENDATION

Based on the above findings, staff recommends that the Planning Commission forward a recommendation of APPROVAL to the City Council for the requested Zone Map Amendment for the properties located at 777 and 787 West Bullion Street from A-1, Agricultural to R-1-8, Single-Family Low Density Residential.

RE: Zone change application for property located at 777 & 787 W Bullion Street

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

We are excited to develop in Murray City. This 1.8 acre property is currently zoned A-1 and we are proposing that the zoning be changed to R-1-~~B~~. The proposed zoning is consistent with the current land use designation and master plan as low density single family residential housing. The proposed zoning is also compatible to current zoning in the same area as the property is near other residential developments. Because of the surrounding residential areas and because the master plan shows this area as residential, we believe that the proposed zoning is suitable for the proposed site.

Thank you again for your consideration. Should you have any questions or concerns, please contact me directly.

Sincerely,

Jake Larsen

TO: Murray City Municipal Council
DATE: September 18, 2018
FROM: G.L. Critchfield, City Attorney
RE: Sexual Harassment Training

The Council Chair has requested a 15-minute training on sexual harassment in the Committee of the Whole. The request is both timely and important.

Sexual harassment is a form of illegal discrimination under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and is prohibited in the workplace. Formal complaints become civil actions and can result in substantial damage to a company or a city in terms of money and morale. Discussing sexual harassment brings awareness and helps to prevent it.
